

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL WRITING (PTW)

Overview

The PTW program is designed to help you learn to write, edit, and design electronic and paper documents for businesses, organizations, and institutions. Successful PTW majors demonstrate many kinds of knowledge and skills valued in the field. As a PTW major, you'll analyze existing works—from web sites and manuals to policies and proposals—as well as produce your own original materials for your professional portfolio. Specifically, you will

- learn to produce clear, effective, well-edited writing that serves the needs and interests of various audiences;
- learn to adapt to working environments that are changing rapidly—especially in terms of information technology;
- develop a specialty in a specific field or type of working environment in which you'd like to put your PTW knowledge and skills to use.

Majors in PTW enjoy successful careers as writers, editors, and document developers. Our graduates have gotten work as professional and technical writers at Ohio companies like Radcom and Rockwell Automation, as grant writers at regional nonprofits, as marketing and public relations specialists around the nation, and as teachers, trainers and consultants in the field. Many have continued their studies in graduate programs as well.

A major in professional and technical writing requires 63 semester hours, distributed as follows:

- PTW majors will create and implement appropriate formats and designs for specific audiences and purposes.
- PTW majors will use a problem-solving approach and a variety of resources to investigate a problem, acquire and assess information, and organize it effectively.
- PTW majors will design documents professionally, using appropriate technological resources, software and hardware, as well as appropriate elements of design.
- PTW majors will evaluate others' writing, accept and implement the recommendations of others in revision and editing. They will edit appropriately, using conventional grammar, spelling, and diction, and they will apply the appropriate style guide.

Notes:

1. The Professional Area requires 18SH in various areas; GER courses may be counted toward it.
2. Req. II includes 12 upper-division SH in non-PTW classes, including linguistics, journalism, and creative writing.
3. Req. III includes any two literature courses in the English department, 2600-level or higher.

Upper-division hours = 48

Learning Outcomes

The English Department has established the following learning outcomes for students completing the professional and technical writing major:

- PTW majors will define, state, and achieve a specific purpose and target audience, recognizing and adjusting for budgetary and timeline constraints.
