Program Description
The Doctor of Education program in educational leadership provides terminal professional preparation for administrators in public and nonpublic schools and health and human service organizations. Professionals currently occupying leadership positions in other settings may also be considered for admission when space in the cohort permits. The program is also open to health-professionals for whom no terminal degree is available in their field but who desire a rigorous program of research and leadership studies. The program is designed to build the capacity of individuals to provide effective educational leadership in such organizational settings, with particular attention to enhancing efficiency, equity, and excellence.

The program focuses on the preparation of professionally committed practitioners who reflect the current state of knowledge and best practice in educational leadership. Central to the preparation of such professionals are the refinement and transmission of competencies in the areas of scholarship, instruction, leadership, management, external relations, and personal development. The program is delivered in a fully online format (https://online.ysu.edu/degrees/education/edd/educational-leadership/).

Students can also earn their doctorate in educational leadership with a superintendent licensure online (https://online.ysu.edu/degrees/education/edd/educational-leadership-superintendent-licensure/).

Students are expected to maintain continuous enrollment in the program. Students who fail to progress with their cohorts will have to await the normal core course rotation to enroll in missed courses. Students who are inactive for more than three terms will have to be readmitted to the program upon the Doctoral Admission Committee’s recommendation.

The Doctor of Education program is administered by the Department of Teacher Education and Leadership Studies in the Beeghly College of Liberal Arts, Social Sciences, and Education.

Accreditation
The Ed.D. program in educational leadership is nationally recognized by the Educational Leadership Constituent Council. Education programs at Youngstown State University are accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation.

Application Procedure
Program information may be obtained from the Department of Teacher Education and Leadership Studies. Residency
Concentrated effort, continuing peer and faculty interaction, and scholarly reflection relatively free from distraction are needed if the student is to develop a considered and mature vision of the profession. Each student is required to meet a minimum residency requirement of enrollment for 18 semester hours during the period of three consecutive semesters, including summer session(s). Residency may be accomplished by means of online enrollment. Dissertation credits may not be used to satisfy the residency requirement.
