Course Description

1550. Writing 1. This course develops an awareness of writing processes and provides strategies for generating ideas, drafting, giving and receiving feedback, revising, and editing. Students analyze texts in light of specific audiences, purposes, and contexts and develop critical skills in reading, thinking, and writing. Students write a minimum of 5,000 words (approximately 20 double-spaced pages) cumulatively across the major assignments and incorporate sources into their writing. English 1550 is the first of two required composition courses in the general education core. Grading is ABCDF but must earn a "C" or better to satisfy the General Education requirement and continue to ENGL 1551 or ENGL 1551H. English 1550 is three semester hours. Prereq.: Placement by ACT/SAT test results OR Composition Placement Test results. 3 s.h.

Dr. Gordon's section: Writing with Archival Sources

We can find many fascinating documents in public archives, from newspaper articles to photographs to genealogical records, and much much more. Moreover, we all have a personal "archives" in the form of documents that are meaningful to us, such as photographs, letters, and official documents. Throughout the course, we'll explore how these documents can be used as sources for your writing projects.
