

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN COMMUNICATION STUDIES, PERSUASION TRACK

Overview

Our Persuasion Track is designed for students interested in careers that involve a great deal of personal interaction and influence. Courses of instruction will deepen your understanding of argumentation, persuasive techniques, public speaking, and help you improve your knowledge and skills in intercultural and social media contexts.

Courses on this track include the core communication courses as well as intercultural communication, presentational speaking, interviewing, argumentation, persuasion, social media campaigns, and new communication media. Classes in presentational speaking, argumentation, and persuasion will develop your public speaking skills beyond the basic skills learned in CMST 1545. Social media and new communication media will prepare you for advancements in communication specifically related to the use of new media for persuasion.

In addition to learning how to present ideas effectively in person-to-person and mediated contexts, students also learn skills relevant to persuading people and developing arguments, which will prove to be essential in careers in sales, customer service/relations, marketing and/or advertising. In intercultural communication, students will learn how to effectively adapt to culturally diverse audiences when preparing and delivering persuasive messages.

This degree prepares students for several career paths (see below), but also leads students to advanced areas of study. For example, graduate study in communication will prepare you for a life of research and teaching in areas such as argumentation (and debate), persuasion, and public speaking. Students who choose this track are often prepared for a Master's in Business Communication (MBA). The MBA, coupled with a B.A. degree in communication studies with an emphasis on persuasion, is useful in many industries, especially the corporate setting. The persuasion track will prepare you for law school, or for public service in government and politics. Other students may choose this track in preparation for divinity school which, in turn, can lead to a career as a religious leader. Additionally, students who earn a communication degree with an emphasis on persuasive skills are qualified for many sales and marketing positions.
