Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC)

The Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) is a college leadership program designed to train college students in leadership and management skills, equipping them for leadership in the United States Army.

Army ROTC is not a college major, but the Army ROTC program is compatible with most baccalaureate degree producing programs at Youngstown State University.

The Military Science Department (Army ROTC) has served the University and the nation since 1949 by preparing students for service as professional Officers in the United States Army. The military science program at YSU offers a four-year course of study that adds practical management training and leadership experience to students' chosen degrees.

The Army ROTC program expands a student's education by providing leadership and management experience. This training helps students develop self-discipline, physical stamina, and poise - qualities basic to success in any worthwhile career. Students genuinely interested in military service can earn a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army (which includes the Active Army, Army National Guard, and Army Reserve) while earning their college degree. Through ROTC, the Army gains Officers with diverse educational backgrounds and contemporary ideas.

Students who have career goals outside the Army that require leadership or managerial skills, and who wish to explore the benefits of the Army, are encouraged to enroll in the introductory lower-division Military Science courses. These courses can be applied as elective credit toward your degree. Participation in these classes is voluntary and carries no military obligation.

Army ROTC is one of the programs at YSU that provides leadership training. In Army ROTC, students quickly gain the confidence and self-discipline necessary to succeed in college. As they progress, students acquire skills and experience in taking charge of activities, setting goals, managing people and resources, and making decisions in demanding circumstances. When they complete the Army ROTC program and graduate from YSU, students will have gained both leadership and academic credentials necessary to take on responsibility as Army Officers and/or step into corporate America. A minor in Military Science is available in consultation with the academic major advisor and the Military Science Department.

Scholarships

The Army ROTC program offers four, three, and two year scholarships to those that qualify (subject to availability). Scholarships include full tuition, a monthly stipend of $300 - $500 and a $1200 book allowance. These scholarships incur a military obligation.

Youngstown State University Army ROTC also offers various alumni and endowment scholarships which are offered to students without any military obligation. Students interested in these scholarships can apply through the Army ROTC Department.

Opportunities for Veterans/Junior ROTC Graduates

Military Veterans and students with three years of Junior ROTC (high school), are eligible for Basic Course class credit (first two years of the ROTC program). These students may be eligible to begin the ROTC program in the Advanced Course (beginning with their junior year). Check with the Military Science Department for Advanced Course requirements.

Army ROTC/Army Reserve/Army National Guard

Students can further broaden their college experience and earn extra income by combining ROTC with service in the Army Reserve or Army National Guard through the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP). Students who qualify may join the Army Reserve or Army National Guard unit as an Officer trainee and simultaneously enroll in the Army ROTC Advanced Course. In addition to ROTC allowances for contracted students, SMP participants are paid for their Reserve or Guard drills and annual summer training sessions. Contact the Military Science Department for details.

Leadership Laboratory

The leadership laboratory is a practical exercise period for both Basic and Advanced courses. It provides hands-on experience in practical military skills and the development of essential characteristics of leadership through progressive evaluation and counseling:

Extra-Curricular Activities

Cadets have numerous opportunities to participate in ROTC activities outside the classroom. During YSU home football games, YSU Cadets raise the national colors, and mark every Penguin score by firing the cannon and doing push-ups for the fans. Additionally, the Color Guard Team provides color guards for university and community events. Army ROTC Cadets also have the opportunity to participate in field training exercises at Camp Ravenna Joint Military Training Center which tests their land navigation and tactical leadership skills. Cadets also participate in Combat Water Survival Training, formal military banquets and ceremonies, and weekly "hands-on" leadership labs.

Cadets may have the opportunity to earn the German Armed Forces Badge for Military Proficiency by completing a fitness test, pistol qualification, demonstrating proficiency in first aid, and completing a road march. Cadets who qualify may also participate in the annual Army Ten Miler in Washington, DC, or honor fallen soldiers and their families at the Mountain Man Memorial March in Gatlinburg, TN.
